About This Game

"Help Zee escape Samsara! Drop blocks of different shapes and properties into a realm of two mirrored dimensions, in this beautiful, reflective puzzle game with a twist..."

While playing in the park, Zee follows a squirrel through a portal to a world of echoes, inhabited by a shadow child. Surrounded by the unknown and trapped in a series of realms both confusing and dangerous, the youngsters must avoid slipping into the pool between dimensions, embarking on a voyage of discovery and awakening they share with the player, up and down staircases, through light and dark, across the upside-down and the right side-up to their eventual freedom.

Features

- Explore the reflected dimensions of 77 levels across 6 hand-detailed realms, each with hidden “Easter Eggs” to uncover
- Simple play mechanic – choose, rotate and drop blocks and utilize their reflections
- Carefully paced advancement, new concepts introduced progressively
- Blocks must be both balanced and will respond to gravity, falling towards the pool between the two dimensions, allowing asymmetric placements...
- ...Although later in the game, new types of block reflections may behave “unusually” under gravity
- Environmental interaction includes falling stones, and thorns which grow on contact with Zee’s echo but shrivel at Zee’s own touch, allowing timed block movements to be set up
- Crafted with love by a team of experienced developers in New Zealand, featuring innovative puzzle design and a unique art and animation style

This puzzle game has some interesting mechanisms and it was a real pleasure to complete it.. Really simple but clever game. I don't usually finish puzzle games as I get bored but this was the perfect length and difficulty. Highly recommend for any puzzle game fans!. Do NOT buy this game at full price.

Well if you read the first sentence you might think this game is awful, well it isn't. The biggest problem this game has is that for the majority it's easy or casual puzzler so if you expect a challenge you will find only a half a dozen brainteasers.

This game could do so much more with the ideas and mechanics and that's the main problem.

Wonderful art style and very relaxing music.

For me this game's price tag is way too high when you take that the game offers little challenge.

. Neat puzzle game for your puzzle-fuzzleness...nutbuzzle
